Flying Star Consultation

Feng Shui is the study of unseen energies and the effect they have on human life, via the environment.

It IS NOT superstition, philosophy or religion.

Feng Shui has been practiced throughout Asia over many centuries. Over time many different schools of Feng Shui have developed. One of the oldest most sophisticated and complex of these schools is Flying Star.

A Flying Star Chart will provide you with a 'map' or 'horoscope' of the unseen influences in your home, based on a compass orientation and the energies in the environment at the time your house was built.

The chart will give you an indication of the favourable and challenging influences in your home, in relation to the present time, and what you can do to enhance the favourable influences and to reduce the effects of the more challenging influences.

Applying Feng Shui to your home will not make you instantly rich or the luckiest person in the world.

What applying Feng Shui WILL DO is create favourable energy throughout your home. Therefore, when you encounter challenging periods in your life, the ill effects will be reduced. When you are in a time of good fortune the favourable Feng Shui enhances this, making things even better.

If you are interested in booking a Flying Star consultation please contact me via the form on the contacts page on this website.

A consultation requires two visits to your home and includes the following. Cost will vary anywhere from $350.00 to $450.00 depending on the size of the home and whether or not a plan needs to be drawn up:

Visit One - approx 30 - 45 mins:

- I attend to take a compass reading of the direction of your home
- We discuss what your primary concerns are, and what you are hoping to get from your consultation

Visit Two - approx 60 - 90 mins, and you will be provided with:

- a comprehensive report on the influences in your home based on a compass reading and analysis of the results
- a 60 - 90 minute consultation to discuss the contents of the report
- a descriptive list of the five elements to assist you when reviewing your report
- a colour chart
- a set of 6 coins

I offer ongoing support for any questions you have following the consultation via phone or email. I also have a review process which involves another visit to you approximately 1 - 2 months after the initial visit.
